

Effect of green area and it's importance on the man's life

J. Hekmati

Dept. of Horticulture, College of Agriculture, Tehran University, Karaj.

The relation between man, green area and plants is related to old generation and many years ago. Scince emigration of mad tribe to Iran's plateau, the green area developed by cultivating and planting trees.

But unfortunately, in the recent decade no considerable attention has been paid on the value of plants and green area. Therefore, to develope the knowledge of Iranian residents in connection with green area and orienting people, with important of green area plants, an attempt could be made. In this paper, has pointed to some of plant effects in human life, too.