

The primary report of survey and identification the late flowering almonds

M. Adli

Khorasan Agriculture Research Center, Mashad.

Almond is one of the most important nut fruits in Iran. Korasan is one of the most productive provinces and almond is grown in areas such as Torbat-Heidarie, Torbat-Jam, Sabzevar, Gonabad, Khaf, Isfarayen. In these areas, it is the main sourced income for the orchard is .

Almond growers are facing with damage of spring frost in above mentioned areas. Regarding this problem a research will be written down aiming to survey and identification of late-flowering almond variety and also will study quality and quantity of crop. At the end of this project, I hope to find late flowering varieties for differentareas.